

Education and training

One of the National Asthma Council's most popular education program activities is our Spirometry Training Course for primary health care professionals which is RACGP, ACRRM and CPD certified.

Two training formats are available, face-to-face workshops and online webinars. These are facilitated by members of the NAC's team of experienced respiratory experts, including asthma and respiratory educators, respiratory scientists, GPs and nurse practitioners.

Education and training

<https://www.nationalasthma.org.au/health-professionals/education-training>